

*People come and ask us lots of questions and we never know what happens with that information.
It doesn't change anything here...'*

*'We would like to know how the information
we gave them is used to know if we are being listened to....'*

Resourcing Implications

It takes longer

Human resources will need to be devoted to the process

A landscape photograph showing a river, a dam, and a cemetery in the foreground. The river is in the background, flowing through a valley. A dam is visible in the middle ground, with a concrete structure and a small bridge. In the foreground, there is a cemetery with many small, simple stone markers. The terrain is dry and hilly, with some trees and shrubs scattered throughout. The sky is clear and blue.
